PERRY & CAMP, 75 No. Main Street, Barre, Vermont

The most important part does—the filling of A Restwel Mattress, which is yielded in the pod of THE KAPOK TREE that grows in JAVA.

Silk floss is nature's own bedding—and is absolutely sanitary—the fibre being solid right through—NOT hollow like most fillings, which offer a haven to homeless germs.

The silk floss in

is gathered in JAVA by the makers, then shipped to America, and thoroughly sterilized before being used in the scientific construction of this magnificent mattress.

A RESTWEL is not too soft—not too hard—and never gets lumpy—will outlive many coverings and be like new each time re-covered. Best quality ticking in a choice of many styles covers it when you buy it, and you may sleep on a Restwel for 60 days at our expense, if you have any doubts—we have none; that's why we sell them.
